

Hyperbole:

a figure of speech that uses EXAGGERATION to make something stand out or be more obvious. It is also used to make things funny. You often see this technique used in books, including Among the Impostors.

One part in each sentence below is an exaggeration. What does each phrase really mean?

1. It is going to take a bazillion years to get through medical school.
2. I ate the whole cow.
3. He must be 900 years old.
4. If I don't get these jeans, I will DIE!
5. The whole world was staring at me.
6. I had a ton of homework.
7. Her smile was a mile wide.
8. I don't have two cents to rub together.
9. His teeth were blinding white.
10. She cried for days.

Hyperbole:

a figure of speech that uses EXAGGERATION to make something stand out or be more obvious. It is also used to make things funny. You often see this technique used in books, including Among the Impostors.

One part in each sentence below is an exaggeration. What does each phrase really mean?

1. It is going to take a bazillion years to get through medical school.
2. I ate the whole cow.
3. He must be 900 years old.
4. If I don't get these jeans, I will DIE!
5. The whole world was staring at me.
6. I had a ton of homework.
7. Her smile was a mile wide.
8. I don't have two cents to rub together.
9. His teeth were blinding white.
10. She cried for days.